Any other suggestion

The workshop was informative and I got exposed to a fascinating domain of materials science. The only flaw was the PCs. If we are going to work on a software, it is mandatory to look for its compatibility with PCs which all the participants can't afford. Otherwise, the workshop was excellent and I'm well satisfied. Got some ideas as well to work on. ---

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

PSG College of Pharmacy, established in 2001 is housed in a 100 acre, sprawling Campus at Peelamedu, Coimbatore, along with other medical institutions. Constant interaction with other sister institutions like PSG Hospitals, PSG Institute of Medical Sciences & Research, PSG College of Technology and PSG College of Arts & Sciences have made this college unique to be a blend of technological advancements and health care activities. It offers B Pharm, M Pharm, Pharm D and Ph. D programmes. The Institution is one among very few pharmacy colleges in India to have NAAC accreditation, DSIR certification and ranked continuously in the last 3 years among the top 50 pharmacy institutions in the NIRF ranking.

OUR MISSION

To establish a 'Centre of Excellence' for Pharma Education & Research.

OUR VISION

To impart theoretical and practical knowledge in Pharma Sciences so that those who come out from the institution will have the exact mind set up for rational thinking and scientific innovations.

QUALITY POLICY

"We, at PSG College of Pharmacy endeavour to achieve Customers' satisfaction by providing excellence in Pharma Education & Research through continuous upgrading of facilities and energizing environment."

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

Department of Pharmaceutics was started in the year 2007. Centre for Drug delivery is equipped with Malvern Zetasizer, Texture analyser, High speed, pressure Homogenizer, Probe sonicator, viscometer, lyophilizer and stability chamber. Faculty members received funds from ICMR, AICTE & The TN Dr. M.G.R. Medical University under different schemes.

ABOUT THE TRAINING

The speed and performance of computational modeling methods using quantum mechanics (QM) and molecular dynamics (MD) has significantly improved in silico screening of drugs in more complex environments.

Computer modeling simulations in the early phases of the formulation development process helps to rapidly identify candidate excipients for drugs, predict key experimental properties of the formulations, and determine the formulation stability.

This approach enables formulators to efficiently select and develop an optimum set of materials and methods for use. It is especially valuable for BCS Class II and Class IV drugs, which can demand unique and challenging formulation methods.

Workshop provides a platform for all faculty, research scientists, research scholars, to learn how understanding the computer simulation and simple chemical structure of a drug and excipient(s) will help during formulation development

Throughout the course of the two days workshop, participants will have the opportunity to get theoretical lectures and hands on session / training in Maestro Material Science Software from Schrödinger experts.

DEPARTMENT OF PHARMACOLOGY

About PSG College of Pharmacy

PSG College of Pharmacy was established in the year 2001. The college is affiliated to "The Tamil Nadu Dr.MGR Medical University" Chennai, it also approved by the AICTE and Pharmacy Council of India, New Delhi. The college consistently meet annual ISO Certification Standards and accredited by NAAC. PSG College of Pharmacy was recently ranked 37th among pharmacy colleges across the nation, by NIRF. PSG College of Pharmacy offers several undergraduate, postgraduate and research level programs in Pharmacy.

Department of Pharmacology

Pharmacology department was established in the year of with the state of art infrastructure in 2008 to provide wide knowledge in preclinical, cellular and molecular pharmacology. Keen focusing on validating the therapeutic potential of various phytocompounds, invitro assay, and prediction of molecular mechanisms and structural elucidation of lead molecules by computer aided drug design. It prepares graduates, post graduates, Pharm D students and research scholars in academic and industrial excellence. The department received numerous research grants from various funding bodies like DST, DBT, and AYUSH etc. Department also involves in collaborative research works with the industry and consultancy services to other institutions.

CONCEPT OF THE WORKSHOP

Molecular modeling has become a valuable and essential tool in the drug design process. Molecular modeling designates the generation, manipulation or representation of 3D structures of molecules and associated physicochemical properties. The traditional way of drug discovery is the experimental screening of large collections of chemicals against a biological target (high-throughput screening or HTS) for identifying new lead compounds. The application of rational, structure-based drug design is proven to be more capable than the traditional way of drug discovery since it aims to understand the molecular basis of a disease and utilizes the knowledge of the three-dimensional (3D) structure of the biological target in the process. The aim of this workshop is to give thrust knowledge on advances in drug discovery, selection of target, lead optimization, 3D QSAR studies in which molecular modeling has helped in the discovery process of new drugs.

OBJECTIVES

- Advanced methods to improve virtual screening enrichments
- Includes selection of PDB structures
- Binding site analysis and its importance
- Lead Optimization Docking
- Recent Developments in Docking Scoring Functions
- Ligand Based Drug Discovery Methods

About the Department

The Department was established in the year 2011 to provide a focus in Pharmaceutical Analysis.

Department actively disseminate knowledge in the field of pharmaceutical analysis to the students both academic and professional aspects. It prepares graduates, post graduates and Pharm D students for research and industrial aspects.

The department involves in method development of synthetic and natural drugs, pharmacokinetic studies, TDM studies, stability studies, structural elucidation of the synthesized drugs using modern equipments and having good infrastructure facilities.

It is an application oriented department we do collaborative and consultancy services to other institutions.

THE CONCEPT BEHIND

Research flows from academic to industry. It is most important channel for a successful transition of knowledge to the commercial sector. To boost up this phenomenon we need to transform the methodologies and strategies of instrumental research to the next generation. Sharing research experience could be the best way for this objective. The Hands-on training of HPLC, Column Chromatography, will add clear concept in mind about working of the instruments and steps involved in validation of analytical results.

OBJECTIVES OF THE WORKSHOP

The workshop aims to give exposure to young researchers to know basics of instruments, its working & applications. It will provide researchers / students a platform to learn techniques used in HPLC to get a better insight into market formulation. It will also deal with analysis of compound determination in pharma products, quality analysis of market formulations, and chromatographic technique
